Thanks to support from Sheridan County, the City of Sheridan, the Towns of Dayton, Ranchester, and Clearmont, and contributions from private citizens, the SCCD has been able to help this community for the past 45 years. Over half of the SCCD's annual budget goes towards on-the-ground projects aimed at improving water and land quality in Sheridan County.

information and outreach,
monitoring, and planning.*

ONE OF MANY

The Sheridan County Conservation District (SCCD) is one of thirty-four conservation districts in the State of Wyoming. Each district has a unique program tailored to its natural resource needs. SCCD's mission centers around water and land quality in Sheridan County.

STRONG FOUNDATIONS

Partnerships are the foundation of the local program. Partnering with other entities to expand project funding and scope helps SCCD deliver a diverse natural resource conservation program.

ACHIEVING THE MISSION

ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

- Water quality improvement projects
- Seedling trees for conservation purposes
- Oil recycling facilities in Dayton and Clearmont

EDUCATION

- Water quality demonstrations and hands-on activities
- Agriculture week presentations on food and product origins
- Community events and workshops

MONITORING

- Water quality monitoring
- Rangeland health assessments
- WWDC Level 1 Watershed Assessments

PLANNING

- Watershed planning
- Land-use planning

The SCCD is funded primarily through federal and state grants with some support from local funding sources, including contributions from private citizens.

Funds raised through private contributions are critical to the function of the SCCD.

Local funds serve as a match for grants and provide for activities not covered through grants. SCCD plays a key role in the protection of natural resources in Sheridan County. Funding received through local sources enables SCCD to maintain its commitment to local resource management.

“ The function of the local Conservation District is to take the "available technical, financial, and educational resources, whatever their source, and focus or coordinate them so that they meet the needs of the local land user. ”
- Pete Nowak
